OPAF Welcomes New Board Member

March 13, 2013 – Charlotte, North Carolina – OPAF, the Orthotic & Prosthetic Activities Foundation welcomes new board member, Renee Knight Woodberry. Renee is the South Carolina Chair for Senator Rick Santorum's Patriot Voices. Renee believes that standing on the sidelines is not an option, and she is eager to work with physically challenged individuals to ensure the true value and worth of every person, regardless of physical limitations. Renee's reason for promoting life and freedom is personal in nature as not many people are aware that she was diagnosed at a young age with scoliosis. She brings to OPAF an outside perspective as an orthotic patient as well as a fundraiser and event planner. Renee holds a Bachelor of Business Administration degree cum laude in Management from Francis Marion University. She is also a certified paralegal, and has worked in the legal arena for over 15 years. Renee has a vast amount of experience in fundraising, serving as Fundraising Chairperson for her local Republican Party, as well as many individual candidates now in office. She has served OPAF by meeting with Senator Marco Rubio from Florida and securing a signed copy of his newly-released book as a donation to our Foundation. Woodberry currently resides in Florence, South Carolina, with her two sons, Trey, 13, and Bryce, 8.
